DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the computer as claimed in claim 19 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 2835

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is vague and indefinite because the indefinite term "substantial" used in the claim. The following are indefinite uses of a word of degree "substantial" to modify a limitation:

When a word of degree is used to modify a limitation, it is necessary to determine whether the specification provides some standard for measuring that degree. See Seattle Box Company, Inc. V. Industrial Crating & Packing, Inc., 731 F.2d 818, 221 USPQ 568 (Fed. Cir. 1984). In this case, the specification does not enable one skilled in the art to reasonably establish what may be construed as being within the metes and bounds of the limitation as modified by the word of degree. Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art would not be apprised as to the claimed invention's scope when the claims are read in light of the specification. See Ex parte Oetiker, 23 USPQ2d 1641. Claims 2-21 are vague and indefinite as being dependent on claim 1.

Claims 19-21 are vague and indefinite because the computer has not been shown in the drawings and the installation method cannot be properly defined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3-7, 9, 11-14, 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horng et al. in view of Inoue et al., US Pat. 6,311,767 or alternatively in view of Michael, US Pat. 6,778,390.

Horng discloses a system for cooling a processor 12, the system comprising: a heat sink assembly 2 having a fan 22, walls 21, 41 coupled to a bottom surface 21 of the heat sink; the walls and bottom surface define an air channel, and the heat sink assembly is configured to be disposed onto the processor 12; and a heat sink lid 23 coupled to the heat sink assembly; the length of the at least a portion of the bottom surface is greater than the length of the processor; the heat sink assembly is further configured such that air flows directly from the fan along the bottom surface of the heat sink assembly. Horng discloses the claimed invention except leaving a portion of the air channel uncovered by the lid. Inoue discloses the air channel partially uncovered by the lid (see Fig. 1) or in Michael reference (see Fig. 3). It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to have partially uncovered air channel as disclosed by Inoue or alternatively by Michael in the device disclosed by Horng which may provide noise reduction.

6. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horng et al. in view of Inoue et al. and further in view of Kitajo.

Horng discloses the claimed invention except the thermal adhesive coupling the heat sink and the processor. Kitajo discloses the heat sink assembly that can be coupled to the processor by thermal adhesive (col. 1, lines 42-45). It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to use thermal adhesive as disclosed by Bartley for the device disclosed by Inoue for better heat transfer.

7. Claims 8, 10 and 21 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horng et al. in view of Inoue et al.

Horng discloses the claimed invention except the graphics processing unit and the application-specific integrated circuit. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to use the cooling system as disclosed by Horng for the graphics processing unit and the application-specific integrated circuit since it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Method steps of claims 19-21 are necessitated by the device structure as disclosed by Horng.
